NORDIC PROFESSIONAL CONFERENCE 2010

COMING up soon...

How is the health situation in the Nordic Countries?

How do we use the resources of the medical secretaries in the best possible way?

How do we get greater job satisfaction?

And how is the future for medical secretaries?

This is just some of the questions you will get sincere as well as entertaining answers to from a string of interesting presenters with opinions and something to say. The place is the Nordic professional conference hosted by the Danish medical secretaries in Copenhagen. And the time is May 6 to 8.

In addition to the current professional content, there will be plenty of time to enjoyable social and cultural events, among other a tour of the Opera, Canal tour and lunch in Nyhavn.

The chairman of The Association of Danish Medical Secretaries and others, Birgitte Ussing, has said about the upcoming conference, that it for her will be the event of the spring and exactly what is needed in a time, when the crisis and its annoying consequences looms large in people's minds. Therefore she crosses her fingers for her colleagues not only in Denmark, but all over the Nordic countries will defy crisis and travel to Copenhagen in big crowds.

“In many places the economy right now lags behind. But I still hope we will be seeing a lot of new as well as old colleagues at the conference,” Birgitte Ussing says.

So visit the website www.nordic-conference.dk and register now. Here you will also find all the practical information.
